About Linton Camp School

Over the last few years the teaching team at Linton Camp School have been focusing on building our collaborative practices. We have worked hard to develop ways of thinking and working that are truly collaborative. At the heart of this work is our desire for every student at Linton Camp School to be 'our' students (as opposed to students in 'my' class).

We want our new teacher to be experienced in working collaboratively or be able to quickly integrate collaborative practices into their way of working.

At Linton Camp School whakamau akoranga, whakamau ā mau - 'Owning our Learning, Owning our Future' is at the core of all we do with our students. We help students to talk about their learning through Seesaw posts, clear expectations, goals and student led conferences.

We promote and teach four key values - Manawaroa (resilience), Maruwehi (respect), Whakahi (pride) & Whanaungatanga (relationships).
